

Opium cultivation was stopped

New cultivars are introduced

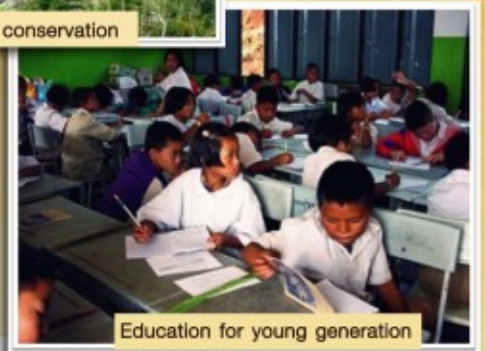

Soil and water conservation

The Royal Project

The project now have the 4 research stations as Angkhang, Inthanon, Pangdah and Maelod where located at the Northern Thailand (altitude are 680 - 1,400 meters above mean sea level).

The projects cover land use planning, soil and water conservation, and high price crops replace the opium cultivation stopping. There also have the 35 Royal Project Development Centers, covering 295 villages and 14,109 households comprising 85,000 people.

Education for young generation

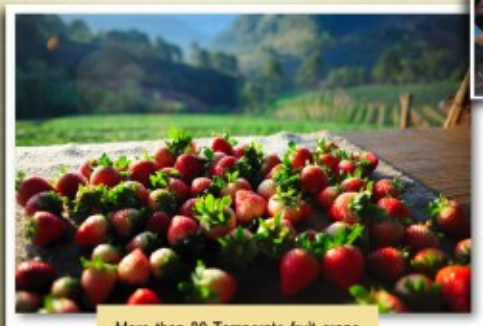

More than 100 vegetable crops

More than 50 Temperate flower crops other economic crops as coffee, red kidney bean, white kidney bean, potato etc.

More than 20 Temperate fruit crops

